Flight safety is the first priority for Airbus Helicopters. In line with our constant commitment to improving the safety of your operations, we are providing you with this new Ground Rescue Booklet for EC135 helicopters. This booklet, which was developed in collaboration with the EC135 operators, will give you additional information in order to adapt your Emergency Response Plans (ERP) within the scope of your Safety Management System (SMS).

We would like to point out that this document covers a generic configuration which may be different from the specific configurations of your helicopters. This booklet will initially be issued in English only and will not be subject to systematic updating. Dedicated versions will be prepared for other helicopters from the Airbus Helicopters range.

These booklets will be made available free of charge on the Airbus Helicopters website, in order to be used by fire fighters and rescue teams around the world.
